1. A new fishing harbor has been built at Möwenhagen in Swinoujscie (Swinemünde). A large, rectangular, stone building of three or four stories is being constructed about 200 meters southeast of the harbor (see attached sketch). The floors are of cement of considerable thickness. As of mid-March the building was still unoccupied. According to Poles in the area, the building will be used exclusively for canning fish and will employ 12,000 (sic) people.

2. In the new fishing harbor, 10-15 small tanks with an estimated total capacity of approximately 8,000 tons were observed. It appeared that the tanks would be buried in the ground in the harbor area.

25X1X [redacted] Comment: Reports of the new fishing harbor and factory have been received 25X1A [redacted] but not in as much detail. The thick cement floors probably indicate that heavy machinery will be installed. The number of intended employees, 12,000, has not been mentioned [redacted] 25X1A
